Statutory Pregnancy & Maternity leave

Team members in Brazil, including contractors, are entitled to 120 days of statutory maternity leave. This leave will run concurrently with GitLab's 16-week Parental Leave policy. Team members are eligible to receive up to 100% of their regular salary, paid by the employer who is later refunded by the government. This leave applies to adoption as well.

To apply for leave, please enter the dates into Workday and select the Parental Leave option. The Absence Management team will reach out to you with more information.

Statutory Partner/Paternity leave

Team Members in Brazil are entitled to up to five days of paid statutory paternity leave. Team members are also eligible for GitLab's 16-week paid Parental Leave; run concurrently.

Team members will receive up to 100% of their regular salary during their statutory Paternity Leave. If eligible, team members will receive up to 100% of their regular salary for the full 16 weeks of leave.

Same-sex couples in Brazil may apply to receive full maternity leave benefits beginning on the day the caregiver takes leave from work.

To apply for leave, please enter the dates into Workday and select the Parental Leave option. The Absence Management team will reach out to you with more information.

Bereavement leave

Team members are entitled to two consecutive days of paid leave following the death of an immediate family member such as a spouse, parent, or child.

Please enter the dates in Workday and select the Bereavement option.

Marriage Leave

Team Members in Brazil are entitled to three consecutive days of paid leave when they get married. Team members needing more time away should refer to our PTO policy.

Please enter the time away in Workday and select the Paid Time Off option.

Statutory Sick Leave

In the event a team member in Brazil is unable to work due to illness, their pay will be supplemented up to 100% of their base salary until the 15th day of absence. After the 16th day of absence, team members are eligible to receive compensation paid by the Social Security Authorities.

To ensure all statutory sick leave is tracked appropriately, please email the Absence Management Team (leaves@gitlab.com) to report your leave. Then enter the dates into Workday by selecting the Out Sick option.

Denmark

All of the benefits listed below are administered and managed by Remote. Queries can be directed to help@remote.com.

Medical

Team members have the option to select Remotes medical insurance through Allianz (for team members only). If they wish to add dependents this will be deducted through the Payroll (usd) $106.50 (for partner), $85.20 (children under 18). Dependents will need to be added within 30 days from the start date, however, if this window is missed team members can reach out to help@remote.com to connect with the benefits team to see if this option can be unlocked and enable the team member to enroll the same (this may depend of circumstances). Dependents can be added through the ThanksBen platform (this is where team members can view their Allianz information).

More information can be found below:

- Remote Allianz Benefit Guide

Team members in Denmark can also access the public healthcare system. This healthcare system covers all the team members and their family members.

Team members can expense up to $250 for eye examination and glasses if they require corrective eyewear to work at a computer screen for extended periods of time. (Login required to see policy)

Eye Examination and Corrective Lenses

Team Members who spend a significant portion of their working hours in front of a screen are entitled to receive an eye and vision examination. This examination should be conducted by either an optician or an ophthalmologist. The employer is responsible for covering the cost of this examination, and every effort should be made to schedule it during regular working hours.

In cases where the Team Member requires corrective eyewear, the employer is obligated to provide, at a minimum, one standard frame with lenses or standard contact lenses at no expense to the Team Member.

Remote has implemented a self-service model to facilitate this process, with a budget allocation of $250 USD to cover frame with lenses or standard contact lenses. This approach allows employees to independently arrange their eye examinations, purchase necessary eyeglasses, and then submit their expenses for reimbursement through the Remote platform.

Pension

Remote will directly contribute to a Group Pension Plan (Soderberg & Partners). The team member will contribute 4% of the monthly base salary, with the Employer contributing 8% of the team members monthly base salary. The pension contribution includes both the retirement savings and the associated insurance and administration fees. The contribution to the pension savings plan will be paid directly into the pension plan in conjunction with the Employer's payment of the monthly salary to the team member.

Life Insurance

GitLab does not plan to offer life insurance at this time as team members can access the benefits from Social insurance system if they get ill, injured or have a disability. The GitLab Life Insurance plan still applies.

Remote - Denmark Statutory Leave Policies

Below is the information related to Denmark's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Denmark are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

Holiday Leave

All full-time workers are entitled to 5 weeks days paid holiday leave a year under the Holiday Act (Lov om ferie). Holidays accrue from the previous calendar year and can be taken in the holiday year which runs from 1 May to 30 April in the following year.

Pregnancy, Maternity and Paternity leave

In total, parents in Denmark get 52 weeks of paid parental leave. The general rule is that the mother has the right to four weeks of leave directly before the planned birth and then to a further 14 weeks of leave after birth.

The father or co-mother is entitled to take two weeks of leave during the first fourteen weeks after the birth of the child. Then 32 weeks follow where the mother and father can freely share leave between them. They can choose to be on parental leave at the same time or in periods one after the other.

Maternity Leave Payment

As an employee, you can receive maternity benefits if you meet these three conditions:

- You must be employed on the first day of your leave or the day before.
- You must have at least 160 hours within the last four full months before the leave.
- You must have at least 40 hours per month for at least three of the four months.
- In addition, you must also be with your child daily, ie. physically spend time with the child.

Payment Denmark automatically receives the information about your employment and hours from your employer.

During maternity leave (after childbirth), birthing parents will receive 50% of their salary from the State. However, Remote and the employee can agree to full pay entitlement.

The allowance during parental leave is calculated as an amount per week. The amount depends on how much you work. The maximum amount per week is DKK 4.460 (2021).

- If you are eligible, you will receive 100% paid Parental Leave for up to 16 weeks. Any additional leave time taken (up to 52 weeks total used between both parents) will be paid at 50% from the State.

Remote will seek reimbursement from the public authority; Udbetaling Danmark.

Applying for Maternity Leave Pay

If you receive pay during the leave

If you receive pay during the leave, reimbursement will be sought by your employer. You can only apply for maternity benefit yourself when the salary stops.

Your employer must notify Udbetaling Danmark when the salary stops. They can do this at the earliest on your first day without pay. As soon as your employer has given notice, you will automatically receive a letter requesting maternity benefits.

They must also give notice if part of your salary stops. In some cases, you can then receive an amount in maternity benefit in addition to the salary.

If you have not received the letter shortly after the salary stops, you must contact your employer to start applying. You must have applied, no later than 8 weeks after all or part of your salary has stopped.

If you do not know what day your pay will stop, ask your employer. Payment Denmark only knows after your salary has stopped and your employer has given notice.

If you do not receive pay during the leave

If you do not receive pay during the leave, you must apply for maternity benefit yourself from the start of the leave.

Your employer or unemployment insurance fund must first notify Udbetaling Danmark that you are going on leave. They can do this your first day on leave at the earliest.

As soon as they have given notice, you will receive a letter with a link to apply for maternity allowance. It also says when you last applied.

If you have not received the letter shortly after you have gone on leave, you must contact your employer or unemployment insurance fund to start applying.

To help you plan for your leave, click on Calculating your Maternity Leave.

Please submit the dates of your leave in Workday by selecting the Parental Leave option. The Absence Management team will contact you with more information.

Paternity Leave

Fathers are entitled to 2 weeks of paternity leave before the birth and 14 weeks after. There is no statutory right to salary, but the father may receive leave benefits from Danish authorities.

Paternity Leave Payment

- If you are eligible, you will receive 100% paid Parental Leave for up to 16 weeks. GitLab's Parental leave will run concurrently with any statutory leave and/or pay entitlements the team member is eligible for.

Please submit the dates of your leave in Workday by selecting the Parental Leave option. The Absence Management team will contact you with more information.

Parental leave

Parents are entitled to 32 weeks leave with a possibility to extend to a maximum of 46 weeks. Leave pay is due for 32 weeks given relevant conditions are met.

Applying for Parental Leave in Denmark

To initiate your parental leave, submit your time off by selecting the Parental Leave category in Workday at least 30 days before your leave starts. Please familiarize yourself with GitLab's Parental Leave policy.

Other Leave Policies

- Adoption Leave: Adoptive parents are entitled to 4 weeks of leave prior to receiving the child, if the adoptive parents have to reside outside of Denmark to adopt. If the child is adopted in Denmark, and it is necessary to reside where the place child is situation, parents are eligible for one week of leave before the adoption. In all cases of adoption, one of the adoptive parents is entitled to adoption leave of 14 weeks and the other with to leave with statutory benefits for 2 weeks. The remaining 12 weeks can be split between the adoptive parents.

- Care leave(omsorgsdage): Intended to allow team members to care for a sick child. This is not a statutory requirement, but is common.

Pension

The Swedish Pension is with Nordnet Hållbar/SPP

This plan has required enrollment for all employees. There is no opt-out option.

Contribution rates are:

- Pensionable Salary between 0 and 7.5 x the Income Base Amount (IBA) = 4.5% On Pensionable Salary between 7.5 and 30 x the IBA = 30% No contributions are payable on Pensionable Salary above 30 x the IBA.
- The company pays all the contributions and no contributions are required from employees.
- Pensionable salary is defined as Basic Salary only.
- Membership of the pension scheme is open to employees aged 18 to 65.

Example for 2024 Income Base Amount:

An employee with an annual salary of 800 000 SEK.

- the 2024 IBA (income base amount) is 76 200 SEK. This means that 7,5 IBA x 76 200 is= 571 500
- Up to a salary of 571 500 the employee has 4,5% contribution (coming from the employer), and above 571 500 (up to 800 000) they have a 30% contribution. There is also a roof of 30% IBA, so if an employee has an annual salary over 30 IBA (2 286 000 SEK), there would be no contribution beyond that level.

To the top of that amount, 24,26% taxes should be added.

Life Insurance

All Sweden-based team members will be automatically covered by group life insurance. Lump sum benefit: 352,800 SEK for deaths before age 55 (or later if there are children under 17). This benefit decreases with age and is tax-free.

Remote - Sweden Statutory Leave Policies

Below is information related to Sweden's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Sweden are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

Holiday Leave

Part-time and full-time employees are entitled to 25 days of paid time off per year. Employers are required to enforce the use of their employees' vacation time. Employees may roll over vacation days for up to five years, but employers should not let employees fail to take time off.

Sick Leave

Employers in Sweden must compensate employees at 80% of their salary for the first 14 days of sick leave. For any sick leave beyond 14 days, employees must apply for long-term illness benefits with the Swedish Social Insurance Office.

Parental (föräldraledighet) Leave

Sweden's Parental (föräldraledighet) Leave affords parents 480 days of leave; 390 of these days paid at a rate of 80% of your salary up to a capped limited of 1006 SEK a day. If you have twins, you are eligible for an additional 180 days. Parents are encouraged to split these days equally between them. However, it is possible for one parent to take up to 390 days of the 480 days. To do this the other parent has to 'transfer' these days to the other parent.

Eligibility

As long as you are a legal resident of Sweden you are entitled to the basic parental leave payment which is 250 SEK a day. To claim your benefit and find out how much you are entitled to, employees should contact your local branch of Försäkringskassan.

Italy

- Team members also have access to government-subsidized supplementary healthcare, either Fondo

Est or Qu.AS, depending on their role. The annual cost for Fond Est is 24 EUR paid by the team member and 120 EUR paid by the company. There's more information on the Fondo Est website. The annual cost for Qu.AS. (available for quadro level only) is 56 EUR paid by the team member and 350 EUR paid by the company. There's more information on the Qu.AS website.

- Pension and Life Insurance - As part of Remote payroll, mandatory contributions are made towards social security funds. Remote currently does not offer a supplementary pension but will be reviewing this in the upcoming year. The GitLab Life Insurance plan still applies.

Statutory Leave Policies

Below is the information related to Italy's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Italy are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

Holiday leave

All full-time workers are legally entitled to a minimum of four week's paid holiday leave a year. In addition, full-time workers have 12 public holidays a year. Individual contracts can provide for a longer period of holiday entitlement and holidays cannot be replaced by a payment in lieu. Amount of holiday leave also depends on the national collective agreement that the employment contract is under.

Based on the NCLA applied by Remote ROL every employee has right to:

32 hours per year of Ex Festività

0 hours per year of ROL, with seniority < 2 years

36 hours per year of ROL, with seniority > 2 years, but < 4 years

72 hours per year of ROL, with seniority > 4 years

When submitting holiday leave via Workday team members must add a comment on which type of leave they are taking, EG: "Ex Festiva" this will then be submitted to & processed by Remote accordingly.

To ensure all holiday leave is tracked accurately, please enter all holiday leave requests in Workday by selecting the Paid Time Off option.

Pregnancy & Maternity leave

Below is the information related to Italy's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Italy are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

In Italy, maternity leave is compulsory and women must take up to two months off from work before her due date and three months off after the baby's birth. In certain scenarios, women may ask their employers for more time off before the baby's due date if her pregnancy is considered at risk and if her workplace puts her health or her baby's in danger. In some instances, women can request to work up to one month before her due date with the approval of her doctor and employer. However, this means that she will have to take a total of four months off after the birth of her child

Maternity Leave Payments

These pensions are funded by the INPS (National Institute for Social Security) which are financed by the employers and employees through the rate established by the employment sector. Workers can either be paid from INPS or through the employer who is compensated by the INPS. During the five-month leave, women are paid up to 80% of their wage.

If eligible, a team member's first 16 weeks of leave will be supplemented the remaining 20% per GitLab's Parental Leave policy. GitLab's Parental leave will run concurrently with any statutory leave and/or pay entitlements the team member is eligible for.

Applying for Maternity Leave in Italy

To initiate your parental leave, submit your time off by selecting the Parental Leave category in Workday at least 30 days before your leave starts. Please familiarize yourself with GitLab's Parental Leave policy.

Paternity Leave

Below is the information related to Italy's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Italy are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

Fathers are also obligated to take a seven-day paid leave of absence from work during the five months of maternity leave. The mother has the option to extend the father's paternal leave if she transfers one of her maternity days to him.

If eligible, team members can take up to 16 weeks of time away (in total) per GitLab's Parental Leave policy. GitLab's Parental leave will run concurrently with any statutory leave and/or pay entitlements the team member is eligible for.

Applying for Paternity Leave in Italy

To initiate your parental leave, submit your time off by selecting the Parental Leave category in Workday at least 30 days before your leave starts. Please familiarize yourself with GitLab's Parental Leave policy.

Parental Leave

In addition to maternity and paternity leave, parents can take extended unpaid parental leave for up to 10 months. For a mother this can be up to 6 months in addition to the maternity leave. Parental leave allowance is significantly less than maternity leave allowance; only 30% of one's wages, and is paid through the INPS.

Other leave policies

Below is the information related to Italy's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Italy are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

= Adoption leave: upon adoption of a child, employees are entitled to 3 months of maternity or paternity leave and employees are entitled to the same financial benefits of natural children.

Parents can also take parental leave in the first three years the child is in the family for same periods and financial benefits. Applies to both parents

- Work-related Injust leave: collective bargaining agreements or individual contracts generally provide for a period paid time off in the case of work injury. The period is generally between 6 and 12 months and applies for both a single period of sick leave and multiple periods. The employee is entitled to keep their job and receive their salary in proportion to the period set out in the collective bargaining agreement or individual employment contract.

Switzerland

All of the benefits listed below are administered and managed by Remote

Note that pensionable salary includes base salary and commissions. Remote will use the estimated commissions on your monthly payslip. At the end of the year, Remote Payroll will conduct a reconciliation and re-declare pensionable salary based on actual earnings.

The social security obligations through Remote are divided between the employee and the employer, with each party contributing their respective shares:

- The Unemployment Insurance is 50% paid by the Employer & 50% paid by the employee.
- The whole of the Non Occupational Accident insurance contribution is paid by the employee.
- The whole of the Occupational Accident insurance contribution is paid by the employer.
- The Supplementary Unemployment insurance (if over a certain value) is 50% paid by the employer and 50% paid by the employee.
- The Old age, survivors disability insurance is 50% paid by the employer and 50% paid by the employee.
- The whole of the Family Compensation Fund is paid by the employer.
- All Administrative fees are paid by the employer.
- Pension plan: AXA Basisvorsorge AG J25, per the retirement credits.

Paid Time Off

Team members 20 years old and above receive at least four weeks of paid time off per year. Team Members younger than 20 years old are entitled to five weeks. Team members are also entitled to paid time off for public holidays in the canton in which they live.

Team members are eligible for additional time off to get married. Team members are eligible for 1 day + 1/2 day on the preceding day and 1/2 day on the following day or can log up to 2 full days.

Please enter the time off into Workday using the label Paid Time Off and then add a comment noting the time away is for Marriage leave.

For this type of time off request, you will also need to enter it into Remote's platform.

Please select the "Other" category and enter the details "wedding leave".

Pregnancy and maternity leave

Birth parents in Switzerland are eligible for 14 weeks (98 days) of maternity leave that begins when the child is born. Team members are prohibited from working for the first 8 weeks after birth.

Maternity Leave Pay

Team members are eligible for up to 80% of their wages during leave; capped at CHF 196 per day.

- Employees in the Geneva canton receive 16 weeks.

Employees must contribute to AHV (social security) for the nine months preceding childbirth and must be actively employed for five months preceding childbirth to be eligible.

If eligible, a team member's leave pay will be supplemented the remaining 20% per GitLab's Parental Leave policy. GitLab's Parental leave will run concurrently with any statutory leave and/or pay entitlements the team member is eligible for.

Applying for Maternity Leave in Switzerland

To initiate your maternity leave, submit your time off by selecting the Parental Leave category in Workday at least 30 days before your leave starts. Please familiarize yourself with GitLab's Parental Leave policy.

Partner/Paternity leave

Since 1 January 2021, new fathers can take two weeks of paid paternity leave (14 days' daily allowance).

If eligible, team members can take up to 16 weeks of time away (in total) per GitLab's Parental Leave policy. GitLab's Parental leave will run concurrently with any statutory leave and/or pay entitlements the team member is eligible for.

Paternity Leave Pay

Paternity allowance amounts to 80% of earnings up to a maximum of CHF 196 per day. Cantonal provisions, personnel regulations, and collective employment contracts may provide for more generous solutions.

If eligible, a team member's leave pay will be supplemented the remaining 20% per GitLab's Parental Leave policy. GitLab's Parental leave will run concurrently with any statutory leave and/or pay entitlements the team member is eligible for.

To initiate your paternity leave, please enter the dates of your leave into Workday by selecting the Parental Leave option at least 30 days prior to the start of your leave.

Sick leave

Employees are entitled to ongoing payments during sick leave, depending on how long they have worked for the company. Typically, employees receive three weeks of sick leave during the first year. Employers commonly have benefits insurance schemes in lieu of sick leave, under which employees can receive 80% of their most recent salary for up to 720 days.

Family Allowance

Team members may be eligible for family allowances once the required criteria has been met. The amount can vary depending on the canton.

The family allowance is not paid out automatically, it must be applied for.

How to apply via Remote

- Write an email to help@remote.com to request an application form for the family allowance.
- Remote will send the required documents that need to be filled.
- Once the forms are filled they must be sent via post to the following address for processing:

Madison Hofmann - Intertrust Services,

Zählerweg 6, 6300, Zug

- Intertrust will reach out directly if anything further is needed.
- Once approved by the local authority the family allowance will be paid out in the next coming paychecks.

On the form please note:

- Section G - Requires a signature and stamp from the local municipality - please note if for any reason the local municipality will not sign, the local provider can still proceed without.
- Section H - Lists the supporting documents that need to be sent.
- Section F - Will be filled out by Remote's local partner (Intertrust Services) once the application form is complete with the supporting documents.

Remote Technology - Luxembourg Statutory Leave policy

Below is the information related to Luxembourg's statutory leave policies. Please note that team members hired in Luxembourg are hired via Remote (PEO) and you should always check with Remote first for the most up to date information.

Maternity leave

Birthing parents are entitled to 20 weeks of maternity leave, starting eight weeks before delivery and lasting until 12 weeks postpartum, and compensated at a rate equivalent to their normal wage, capped at five times the minimum wage, i.e. roughly ~12,000 per month.

In addition to the statutory maternity benefits, pregnant and postpartum employees are entitled to enjoy exemption from hazardous work, dismissal following maternity, and any obligations to work overtime or night shifts.

Paternity leave

Non-birthing parents "fathers" are entitled to 10 days of paid paternity leave financed by the employer within the first two months after the birth of their child. Employees should notify their employer at least two months before the intended start of their leave.

Parental leave

Employees are entitled to parental leave ranging from four to six months following each new birth into their family, which can be exercised until their child turns six, or 12, if the latter is adopted.

Both leaves can be taken either in full, partially, or split with the other parent and are based on the number of hours in the employee's contract:

40 hours per week- 4-6 months of full-time leave; 8-12 months of part-time leave (50% of regular working hours); 4 periods of 1 month leave within a 20-month period; 1-2 half days of leave per week within a 20-month period.

At least 20 hours per week- 4-6 months of full-time leave; 8-12 months of part-time leave (50% of regular working hours)

At least 10 hours per week- 4-6 months of full-time leave

Split or partial leave is at the discretion of the employer. To be eligible:

The parent must be registered with social security at the time of the birth or adoption of the child for at least 12 continuous months

Salaried employees- must have worked at least 10 hours per week

Have an employment contract during the leave

Instead of wages, an allowance is given by the Children's Future Fund.

- If eligible, pay will be supplemented up to 100% pay (minus any statutory benefits received) for up to 16 weeks.

Applying for Maternity, Paternity, and/or Parental Leave in Luxembourg

To initiate your parental leave, submit your time off by selecting the Parental Leave category in Workday.

Sick leave

Sick employees are entitled to their full wages paid by the employer for the 77 days (or the end of the month after the 77th day of illness elapses) after which an employee will draw sickness benefits from the Caisse Nationale de Santé equivalent to 100% of the normal wages, without exceeding 500% of the minimum wage, i.e. roughly capped at ~12,000 per month.

Employees should enter their Sick Time into Workday by selecting Out Sick. After the 5th consecutive workshift missed due to illness, employees should contact leaves@gitlab.com.

Willis Towers Watson Claims Assistance

Willis Towers Watson (WTW) is the broker for GitLab's group benefit plans and can assist members with any benefit questions or claims issues.

For any claims issues or benefits queries, please reach out to the WTW team at claims.sg@willistowerswatson.com.

Enrollment

New Team Members will be prompted to fill out a Singapore Benefits Onboarding Form during onboarding.

Once completed, the Total Rewards team will receive the form and will work with our broker, Willis Towers Watson, to enroll team members into the group plans.

Team Members will receive underwriting forms from WTW within the first month from their hire date.

Team Members who experience a qualified status change can update their information by sending an email to the Total Rewards Team at total-rewards@gitlab.com

When adding a new dependent to the plan, please include the following information in your request to Global Upside:

- Dependent Name
- Dependent Date of Birth
- NRIC Number
- Gender
- Nationality

Annual Health Screening

GitLab offers all Singapore Team Members an annual Health Screening through Fullerton Health.

Team Members can book an Executive Health Screening (Premium Scan) at one of Fullerton Health's locations throughout Singapore. The cost of the screening will be invoiced directly to GitLab.

The benefit renews in the Calendar Year.

Team Members can upgrade their scan or add Optional Tests and Screenings at their own cost. For additional details on the locations, what is included in the screenings, as well as information on how to book your appointment, please see the Fullerton Health Guide.

You can sign up for the benefit and book an appointment via the Fullerton Health Website. Click on 'Sign Up', fill out your information, and search for 'GITLAB SINGAPORE PTE LTD' under the Company drop down.

Note: Since GitLab pays for the benefit directly, this benefit is not considered CPF payable

Contact Details for Fullerton Health: Email ehs@fullertonhealth.com +65 6333 3636 (Option 3)

Administration of Health Screening

Fullerton Health will send the invoice directly to total-rewards@gitlab.com team for payment. The Total Rewards team will review and forward to Accounts Payable to process the invoice. These invoices will come through on an ad-hoc basis. As with all discretionary benefit offerings, GitLab may modify or remove this benefit at its discretion.

Pension

GitLab does not plan to offer a supplementary private pension benefit at this time as Singapore has their Pension system called as Central Provident Fund

Life Insurance

GitLab offers company paid Group Term Life through HSBC Insurance. Coverage is sum insured $500,000 SGD per member.

Underwriting: Members are automatically covered up to the Free Cover Limit of $150,000 SGD. In order to receive the full coverage of $500,000 SGD, team members must complete medical underwriting requirements.

For more details on the coverage of the Life Insurance plan, please refer to slides 39-44 of the GitLab Singapore Benefit Deck

Group Personal Accident Insurance

As of 1 Aug 2022, the Group Personal Accident plans will be covered by Zurich. Coverage is sum insured $500,000 SGD per member. Under the Zurich Personal Accident coverage, team members will also receive extended benefits including ambulance cost coverage, emergency travel expenses, trauma counseling, and more.

For more information on the Group Personal Accident insurance plan, please refer to slides 46-49, of the GitLab Singapore Benefit Deck and the Group Personal Accident Insurance Policy.

GitLab Singapore Pte Ltd Parental Leave

Statutory Leave Entitlements

Maternity Leave

Team members who have been continuously employed by GitLab for at least 3 months immediately before the birth of their child may be entitled to either 16 weeks of government-paid maternity leave in accordance with the Child Development Co-Savings Act or 12 weeks of maternity leave in accordance with the Employment Act. Eligibility can be determined by visiting the Ministry of Manpower website.

Government-paid maternity leave entitlement

- For 1st and 2nd births, team members are entitled to 8 weeks paid by their employer and 8 weeks paid by the government.
- The first 8 weeks of leave must be taken in one continuous block. The following 8 weeks may be broken up into different periods; however, it must end no later than 12 months from the child's date of birth.
- For eligible team members, this leave runs concurrently with GitLab Parental Leave. Team members must initiate their leave by selecting Parental Leave in Workday at least 30 days before leave starts.

Applying for government paid maternity leave

- Team members must submit a GPML Declaration to the Absence Management team as soon as possible.
- GitLab will continue to pay the team member's salary during their leave and submit a claim for reimbursement.
- For 1st and 2nd births, GitLab will apply for reimbursement for the 9th - 16th weeks of leave. For 3rd and subsequent births, GitLab will apply for reimbursement for the full 16 weeks.

Maternity Leave entitlements under the Employment Act

- Eligible team members may be entitled to 12 weeks of maternity leave. This entitlement includes 8 weeks of leave paid by their employer and 4 weeks of unpaid leave.

To initiate leave:

- Team members must submit their leave request through Workday by choosing the Parental Leave option.
- For eligible team members, this leave runs concurrently with GitLab Parental Leave. If eligible, team members would receive up to 16 weeks of paid maternity leave.

Paternity Leave

Team members who have been continuously employed by GitLab for at least 3 months immediately before their child's due date may be entitled to 4 weeks of government-paid paternity leave. Please visit the Ministry of Manpower website for more information on eligibility.

- For eligible team members, this leave runs concurrently with GitLab Parental Leave. If eligible, team members would receive up to 16 weeks of paid paternity leave.

Applying for Government-Paid Paternity Leave

- Team members must submit their leave request through Workday by choosing the Parental Leave option.
- Team members must submit a GPPL Declaration to the Absence Management team at leaves@gitlab.com as soon as possible.
- GitLab will continue to pay the team member's salary during their leave and submit a claim for reimbursement.

Annual Leave

- Team members in Singapore are entitled to Fourteen (14) days of annual leave per year which accrues on a pro rata basis throughout the year. This leave runs concurrently with GitLab PTO. Team members should initiate leave by entering their time off into Workday by selecting the Paid Time Off option under the Time Offs dropdown menu.
- Team members must coordinate with their team prior to taking time off to ensure business continuity. The Company may in its absolute discretion rescind its approval for any leave applied for where the exigencies of work so require.
- Unused annual leave may not be carried forward from any year to a succeeding year except with the prior approval of the Company.
- Unless the Company approves or requires otherwise, annual leave may not be used to offset any notice periods related to a team member's resignation or termination.

Other Leave

- Team members in Singapore are entitled to such outpatient sick leave and hospitalization leave as provided in the Employment Act.
- Your entitlement (if any) to maternity leave and benefits, adoption leave, childcare leave, extended childcare leave, unpaid infant care leave, shared parental leave and paternity leave shall be as provided in the Child Development Co-Savings Act and the Employment Act.

<details markdown="1">

<summary>Eligibility</summary>

Any active, regular, full-time team member working a minimum of 30 hours per week are eligible for all benefits. Benefits are effective on your date of hire. Others eligible for benefits include:

- Your legal spouse or domestic partner,
- Your dependent children up until age 26 (including legally adopted and stepchildren), and/or
- Any dependent child who reaches the limiting age and is incapable of self-support because of a mental or physical disability

Note: If you and an eligible dependent (as defined above) are both employed by GitLab, you may only be covered by GitLab's coverage once. This also applies to enrolling in either your own supplemental life insurance or supplemental spouse/dependent life insurance through your dependent who is employed by GitLab, but not both.

A domestic partnership is an arrangement in which two people live together and are in a committed relationship without being legally married. Domestic partnerships are composed of two people of any gender, which includes male, female, or nonbinary people. If you have recently entered in to a Domestic Partnership, or your Domestic Partner goes through a Qualifying Life Event, you may add them to the GitLab plans as outlined in the instructions below. During the documentation step, you will be asked to fill out and submit a Domestic Partner Affidavit in to PlanSource. If you are adding your Domestic Partner during New Hire Enrollment or Open Enrollment, there is no need to fill out the Domestic Partnership Affidavit.

Please note that a portion of the premiums paid by GitLab and any portion of the premium paid by salary deduction for a Domestic Partner may be included in the employee's reported gross income for tax purposes. Additionally, premium contributions for Domestic Partner coverage may not be eligible for pre-tax salary reduction under Section 125.

Qualifying Life Events

Due to IRS guidelines, you cannot make changes to your health insurance benefits outside of GitLab's annual open enrollment period unless you experience a Qualifying Life Event.

A QLE is a change in your situation - like getting married, having a baby, etc that can make you eligible for a special enrollment period. You must wait until the event date has passed to submit your Qualifying Life Event. You have 30 days from the date of your qualifying event to submit your requested change to PlanSource.

Once approved, coverage will be backdated to the date of the event.

Please see the FSA and HSA section of the Handbook for details on Mid-Year Qualifying Life Event changes to these plans.

</details>

<details markdown="1">

<summary>Process for submitting a Qualifying Life Event</summary>

1. Log into PlanSource

1. Select Update your current Benefits.

1. Select the Life Event that applies to your situation from the list & enter the event date.

1. The system will ask you to review your personal details, update as necessary and select continue.

1. If your Life Event includes adding a new dependent, select Add Dependent and add their information. (For Birth Event: If you are still pending the SSN for your newborn, you may continue the request without this information and can add later when received.)

1. Click Select Benefits and the system will lead you to the Benefit plans you can update.

- If adding a dependent to the plan(s), scroll to the plan(s) you wish to add them on and select View or Change Plan. On the next page, select the specific plan you want to enroll in (if you wish to continue on your current plan, select that plan). On the specific plan page, add your new dependent by checking their name. Click Update Cart.

- If removing a dependent from the plan(s), scroll to the plan(s) you wish to remove them from and select View or Change Plan. On the next page, select the specific plan you want to enroll in without your dependent (if you wish to continue on your current plan, select that plan). On the specific plan page, remove your dependent by unchecking their name. Click Update Cart.

- Adjust savings accounts or insurance plans by clicking on the View or Change Plan button next to the plan name. Click Update Cart after you've made your desired changes.

1. Once you have made all of your changes, please click the button to Review and Checkout

1. You will be taken to a screen to review the costs of your benefits and will need to click Checkout again to confirm your changes. The request will be routed to the Total Rewards team for review.

If your Qualifying Life Event requires documentation the steps below will follow your QLE request

1. Following your QLE request, you will receive an email from PlanSource requesting documentation for your Qualifying Life Event.

1. Log into PlanSource. On your PlanSource Homepage, scroll down to "Your To-Do List". Select the Task requesting documentation for your life event.

1. Upload the documentation in to PlanSource.

1. Once submitted the Total Rewards Team will review your request and documentation for approval.

Potential joiners who do not have a myCigna account yet can search for providers on the Cigna Website. When selecting a plan everyone at GitLab (PPO, EPO, and HDHP members) will use the OPEN ACCESS PLUS selection, except for Utah members, who will use the PPO option.

Team Members and potential joiners can also reach out to the Cigna One Guide service to check if their doctors are in-network and walk through the GitLab plans with a Cigna rep.

{{% alert title="Important Note" color="warning" %}}

As an additional measure to confirm "Contracted Providers" (i.e. In-Network), it's always a good idea to follow up with Providers directly (phone, email or otherwise) to additionally confirm if a Provider is contracted with Cigna or not and if the type of service is covered. In some instances, the same provider may be covered In-Network for certain types of services, but may be Out-Network for other services.

Provider contracts change and sometimes the contracts change faster than the website maintenance teams for the insurance carriers. It's better to spend time researching and confirming rather than assuming and being stuck with balance billing
